

TABLE 1
BLUEPRINTS FOR THE DOMINATION/CONTROL AND THE PARTNERSHIP/RESPECT MODELS

COMPONENT	DOMINATION MODEL	PARTNERSHIP MODEL
One: Social Structure	Authoritarian structure of rigid rankings and hierarchies of domination.*	Egalitarian social structure of linking and hierarchies of actualization.*
Two: Gender Relations	Ranking male half of humanity over female half. High valuing of traits and activities such as control and conquest of people and nature associated with so-called "masculinity."	Equal valuing of female and male halves of humanity. High valuing of traits and activities such as empathy, nonviolence, and caregiving in women, men, and social policy.
Three: Violence and Fear	High degree of fear and socially accepted violence and abuse — from wife and child beating, rapes, and warfare, to emotional abuse by "superiors" in families, workplaces, and society at large.	Mutual trust and low degree of fear and social violence, since these are not required to maintain rigid rankings of domination.
Four: Belief System	Relations of control/domination presented as normal, desirable, moral.	Relations of partnership/respect presented as normal, desirable, moral.

* What I have called a domination hierarchy is the type of hierarchy based on fear of pain and/or force. This kind of hierarchy is different from the hierarchy I have called an actualization hierarchy, where leadership and management are empowering rather than disempowering, and the goal is higher levels of functioning.
  "Masculinity" and "femininity" in this context correspond to gender stereotypes appropriate for a dominator society and not to any innate female or male traits.
