

The Kentucky Philosophical Association
Call for Papers

52nd Meeting

Saturday, April 17, 2010

Eastern Kentucky University
Richmond, KY

Keynote Speaker:

Jenefer M. Robinson

University of Cincinnati

New Books Panel featuring:

Avery H. Kolers (UL): Land, Conflict, and Justice: A Political Theory of Territory (Cambridge); and Robert Sandmeyer (UK): Husserl's Constitutive Phenomenology: Its Problem and Promise (Routledge)

Paper Submission:

Papers (max 3000 words) may be on any subject in philosophy. They should be prepared for anonymous review and sent as email attachments (MS Word, .rtf, or .pdf only, please) to frimpongma1@nku.edu (make sure "KPA" appears in subject line), or by US Mail to Yaw Frimpong-Mansoh, Dept. of Sociology, Anthropology, and Philosophy, Northern Kentucky University, Highland Heights, KY 41099. Papers must be postmarked by March 19, 2010. Please suggest one or two people who would be willing to serve as a commentator for your paper.