A excessive - 1 B appropriate – 12 C negligible - 0

2. Quizzes are . . .

A excessive -2 B helpful - 11 C unfair - 0

3. Pronunciation should receive . . .

A more emphasis - 6 B less emphasis – 0 C about the emphasis it does - 7

4. How does the course to date correspond to your expectations?

A closely - 7 B not very much – 5 C I had no expectations - 1

6. The use of computer / Internet is . . .

A helpful – 10 B not very helpful - 2 C I am indifferent - 1

7. One thing I would like changed is:

N/A

the tempo of the class.

I would like more quizzes for a fewer amount of points.

More homework and writing assignments, as they help with practice/understanding. More practice speaking.

have the professor not be as crucial when grading things & give positive feedback rather than mostly negative.

For a language class, this class uses the computer a lot. It is almost set up like an online class would be. As a student in this class I do not feel like doing all of my assignments on blackboard is helping learn the language. Physically writing, and speaking in class for me would be more beneficial than using blackboard as the main source of all assignments.

Although I very much like the class the way it is, I think I would benefit from a higher proportion of lecture.

The format of the quizzes, I feel instructions should be included. One quiz I was not sure what tense we were talking about.

I would like to see more reviews of verb tenses and when it is appropriate to use each one. The online activities help with this, but an extra review in class couldn't hurt.

Have quizzes with multiple verb tenses represented so that we are accustomed to going back and forth easily between the tenses before the mid-term. I think it would also be a sort of refresher for verb tenses we learned early on in the course.

Everything looks good so far, but the English language tends to take more time. More in-class explanation of grammar topics rather than just exercises. Most everything we do in class I could have done at home

8. What I like best is:

Everyone in the class has a good attitude about the language and the instructor reflects this mood.

amount of time spent working on French.

You are very encouraging with your comments on the redactions.

Online practice homework.

The feedback from the professor is helpful ; I am responded to in a timely manner.

The quick feedback we get on the writing assignments! It's extremely helpful and really helps me learn. I also like the review of all the grammar tense we due as well the online version of the Breaking the Barrier assignments.

I like that the class is not a high-pressure enviroment, and that expecations are clear. I panic easily, so I feel that the calmness of the class makes learning easier.

The exercises done in class and how professor Love explains any confusions.

I enjoy working together as a class to complete exercises. I find it very helpful to receive feedback from my peers as we correct each other's mistakes.

Working together as a class on the interactivies online and reviewing classmates work so that we can learn from our mistakes, but also other mistakes that are frequently made. I also like having quizzes to keep us caught up.
